

You can get almost anything at a grocery store nowadays, including jokes. The other night I opened up a deep-freeze item and found between the cardboard case and the food a layer of printed matter.

It appears that the food processor was running a contest offering a $100 U. S. Savings Bond to the customer who sent in a child anecdote good enough to be printed and enclosed in the food packages. Someone in Massachusetts got a $100 bond for this one:

"Well, Johnny, how did you get along in school today?"

"O. K., Mom, but that new teacher sure asks some fool questions. Today she asked where everyone was born."

"Well," replied his mother, "you certainly knew the answer to that — the Women's Hospital."

"Oh, sure," replied Johnny, "but I didn't want the whole class to think I was a sissy — so I said 'Frankie Stadium.'"

Wonderful as the inventions are that we already enjoy in everyday life another marvel is coming up over the horizon and may be ready within two years.

It's an offshoot of the electronic tape recorder. The latter is quite new itself. The sound tape recorder had just come on the market and KXAR bought two a few weeks before it went on the air December 12, 1947. Before that time all transcribing had to be done on disc records, and the cost was prohibitive to a country station since each 16-inch blank could be used but once on each side. But a $3 sound tape can be "erased" and reused thousands of times. Today the tape recorder is standard equipment everywhere; it is even used for the master recording from which phonograph records are stamped.

And from which Hollywood's film sound tracks are printed — and it is fairly common in private homes.

But Joseph M. Guilfoyle reported in Wednesday's Wall Street Journal this astonishing new development:

In Princeton, N. J. he saw a magnetic tape recorder that had been developed by the Radio Corporation of America do the following —

It picked up a television show that was broadcast from New York City and as soon as the show was over the tape recorder played it back to the Princeton folks — both sound and pictures!

No film whatsoever.

Just magnetic tape, recording light as well as sound — and like its cousin the sound tape this also can be "erased" and used over and over.

Tape to record a half-hour television show would cost about $20, but the tape could be wiped clean and reused later; to copy the same show in film would cost 20 times as much. If in color, and 10 times for black-and-white — and once film is used it is gone.

RCA's latest invention threatens a major revolution in the 16-mm. film business, with vast savings to the consuming public. It is the first time in history that light has been recorded on a material that could be used again and again — and it comes only six years after the same idea was performed in recording sound alone.

Nor does RCA get all the credit for this. Earlier this year a gentleman named Bing Crosby, operating as Bing Crosby Enterprises, demonstrated a similar light-recording machine using tape. Bing's machine captured black-and-white pictures only. RCA recorded both color and black-and-white. But Mr. Guilfoyle reports from Princeton that the color demonstration wasn't so hot. The black-and-white was perfect.

Giant Tornado Rips Louisiana Killing Eight

Reports Sparse But 20 Other Reported Hurt

ALEXANDRIA, La. (UP) — A mammoth tornado, spawned by an early winter squall, carved a crescent-shaped path through central Louisiana today, killing at least eight persons and injuring 20 others.

Police were receiving only sparse reports from the hit communities — rural area along a 100-mile zig-zag path taken by the giant twister.

Telephone lines were down. The New Orleans weather bureau warned that the hurricane-producing conditions, which were moving eastward, might produce small twisters in Mississippi before the day is over.

Within two hours of that warning, it was borne out.

A tornado ripped through the Mississippi river levee village of Piller leaving "several people" reported dead and at least two persons injured.

Bill Ray, a reporter with the Vicksburg Post Herald, said first reports from the tiny village said "several people" were killed as the tornado dipped down on its way out of Louisiana.

A hospital at Rolling Fork, 25 miles north of the tiny community reported a mother and his two-year-old son were injured, the mother seriously.

"More injured are on the way to the hospital," an attendant said.

Louisiana state police and the weather bureau said the deadly winds were the result of one tornado formation, but witnesses in the stricken areas said they thought as many as six different twisters hit.

State police said six persons were killed at Leander in West Central Louisiana, and two children died at Tullos 100 miles to the northeast as the winds roared down out of inky-black clouds.

The severe weather, the weather bureau said, was continuing.

Number of Civilian Job Holder Drops

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate House committee reported today the number of civilian federal jobholders dropped in October for the 15th consecutive month.

The government's payroll was put at 2,373,113 in October, a decrease of 20,897 compared with September and of 196,841 compared with October 1952.

The figures came from the joint committee on reduction of non-essential federal expenditures, headed by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.).

The federal employment decline began in the summer of 1952 under the Truman administration and has been carried forward steadily by the Eisenhower regime.

The committee said civilian government jobs are split almost evenly between the Defense Department and all other agencies.

With 1,193,653 civilians working for the armed forces and 1,179,458 persons working for other departments.

Modern People Not Only Drive Each Other Batty, They Also Have Influence Over Their Pets

By HAL BOYLEQH QH NEW YORK (AP) — Does your dog brood? Well, stop him. That way lies madness.

Civilized dogs and cats are getting more neurotic all the time. The main trouble? It's people. Modern people not only drive each other batty. They do the same thing to their pets.

"People drive 50 per cent of their pets neurotic by lack of understanding," said William Hall, a former management engineer turned animal psychologist.

His conclusions on the mental relationship between pets and people are based on the study of thousands of animals in his laboratory at Coral Gables, Fla.

"Any pet reflects its home," he said. "We can take a dog in our laboratory and quickly tell, in simply by the way it wags its tail, the general mental health of its owners. We can even tell whether

Officers of Military Seek Pay Raises

By AMES MORRISSEY PANNMUNJOM, Korea, (UP) — American authorities today voiced fears that months and years of Communist indoctrination and discipline may close the ears of most of the 22 Americans, still held by the Reds, to the United Nations invitation to come home to freedom.

Doubts of the effectiveness of the brief interviews permitted with the men who chose Communist ways from the second U. N. defeat in its effort to win back South Korea war prisoners who elected to stay behind the Bamboo Curtain.

Like the storybook soldiers of the French King, thirty South Koreans marched right up the hill to the U. N. explanation tents today, then marched right back again.

All came dutifully to the explanations, conducted by smartly uniformed patient South Korean officers. They heard the explanations out with polite but bored attention. Then they returned, to a man, to Red custody.

They, with the 30 who turned their backs on their anti-Communist homeland yesterday, will be held in Indian custody until Jan. 22 when they will be released to the Communists.

In addition to losing the 30, the United Nations today lost four additional men who once renounced Communism while U. N. prisoners of war. Today the four told Indian custodial troops they wanted to be repatriated to their Red homelands. They were handed over to the Communists at 3 p. m. (1 a. m. EST.).

American and South Korean officers taking part in the explanation sessions, or sitting in as observers, were frankly pessimistic after to explanation session.

They said they had hoped that at least four out of every 30 South Koreans interviewed would choose to return to Democracy.

They still were hopeful they might coax a maximum of 15 of the 22 Americans to return home. But they admitted that the Communist indoctrination and party discipline exercised over the South Koreans they have been cast doubt on the estimate.

They were further concerned by

Highway Dept. Lets 13 Jobs for $3 Million

By LEON HATCH

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Highway Commission today received apparent low bids totaling $3,000,000 on 13 road and bridge construction projects.

The total was well below preliminary estimates of a $3,500,000 letting.

The comparative totals, however, do not include 10 per cent for engineering fees, which is added to the cost of each contract.

Included today were two jobs for improvement of Highway 70, the main Little Rock-Memphis traffic artery, in Monroe and St. Francis Counties. The jobs would cover 24 miles of the road.

Ben M. Hogan & Co., of Little Rock was the apparent low bidder on both projects.

Jobs, by counties, with apparent low bids:

Garland — 5.9 miles of grading, gravel base and open graded ready mix surface coat on Highway 7 from a point 1.5 miles south of Jesselville to a point one mile south of the Perry County line; Four Brothers, Inc., Sweet Home, $132,500.

A Nevada — 6.52 miles of widening and resurfacing of Highway 9 from Prescott city limits to the Little Missouri River bridge; Anchor Construction Co., Muskogee, Okla., $257,700.

Hall's Story of Money Not Like Officers

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UP) — A "dying" declaration by kidnaper Carl Austin Hall told today how more than $300,000 of the Greenlee ransom money disappeared between the time he was arrested and the time he was taken to police headquarters.

The statement was in direct conflict with information given by former Police Lt. Louis Shoulters and Patrolman Elmer Dolan who made the arrest.

Authorities said Hall's account of his arrest showed a "terrible resentment toward Shoulters."

Hall made the statement to St. Louis Police Chief Jeremiah O'Connell and Circuit Attorney Edward I. Dowd on Monday, just 10 days before his scheduled death in the gas chamber at Jefferson City.

O'Connell and Dowd said the statement was under intensive study and would be compared with accounts given by all other witnesses of the arrest.

Hall said he was the last person to leave the hotel room where he was arrested. Two suitcases containing most of the $600,000 were not taken to the police station with him, he said.

Shoulters and Dolan had said the suitcases were placed in the police car for the drive to the station.

Hall said Shoulters made little effort to find out if he was armed when he burst into the kidnaper's hideaway apartment here Oct. 6.

He said Shoulters asked for his keys almost immediately, then went to a closet and appeared to be examining the suitcases.

Dowd said Hall's statement was taken in the legal form of a dying declaration.

Hall and his accomplice Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, are scheduled to die Dec. 18.

Nothing Really Wrong With Anxious Heart

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE ST. LOUIS (AP) — Worried about your heart?

There's a good chance you just have "anxious heart," with nothing actually wrong despite pains or other signs.

This anxiety heart disease was described today to the American Medical Association by Dr. Jackson A. Smith, department of psychiatry and neurology, Baylor University College of Medicine, Houston, Texas.

Some Civil War soldiers had — it was then called "frightful heart" — it was thought to be due to too much excitement.

Lots of World War I soldiers had it. For many it cleared up after the armistice.

Fear and anxiety cause it. In civilians as well as soldiers. The person focuses attention on his heart, Dr. Smith said. Sometimes it's created or helped along when during a heart examination the doctor says or does something making the patient believe his heart is really physically in trouble.

Lions Seek Support of Auction

The Hope Lions Club reports plans for the Third Annual Lions KXAR Radio auction are progressing with several hundred dollars worth of merchandise donated by merchants and business firms of Hope.

This merchandise is being displayed in the window of the Arkansas-Louisiana Company. Everyone is invited to stop by and look the merchandise over, so that when the auction starts they will be familiar with the items being sold.

The telephone company has installed three local telephone circuits and one broadcast loop in the Municipal Court Room of the City Hall Building. This is where the Lions Club auction will originate this year. The public is invited to attend in person and see the items as they are being sold. In fact, the Lions Club is planning to offer several door prizes, to everyone attending in person there will be no admittance charge.

As before, the money derived from the radio auction will be used to purchase baskets of food for needy families in Hempstead County. In many cases of dire need, clothing items are included along with some re-conditioned toys.

It is hoped that the citizens of Southwest Arkansas will take this chance to their heart again this year as before and make the auction a financial success. The Lions Club realizes that their efforts play only a minor role in bringing a Merry Christmas to so many needy families and that the real credit is due each person who donates or buys merchandise. Make your Christmas Happier this year by helping the needy this year through the Lions KXAR Radio Auction that begins Monday December 7, and continues through Wednesday December 9.

Clerks Against Marriage Law But Check Reveals Syphilis In Arkansas Is 'Astounding'

By The Associated Press

Two Arkansas legislators and the State Health Department brought Arkansas' new marriage laws into the news again yesterday after county clerks had assailed the measures earlier in the week.

The department's Venereal Disease Control Division reported that during the first three months premarital tests were given 30 per cent of three persons examined were found to be "reactors." This includes groups with both "weakly positive" or "positive" reaction to examination for syphilis.

And in a story published in the Memphis Commercial Appeal, State Sen. James Johnson of Crossett and State Rep. James Choate Jr., of Little Rock, said they didn't care whether county clerks liked the new marriage laws or not. Both men had sponsored the measures.

The laws—which went into effect in July—require a three-day waiting period before a marriage license is issued and premarital physical examination which includes a blood test for venereal disease.

At a County Clerks Association convention in Little Rock Monday, both measures were attacked as not working.

The clerks also complained that many Arkansas couples were going to states where the laws were not so strict, thereby losing revenue to Arkansas.

Another complaint was that there has been an increase in common law marriages because some couples are in a hurry.

Strike Poses Shortage of Tin Cans

PITTSBURGH, (AP) — A can shortage faced the citrus industry today as the result of a strike against the nation's two largest can manufacturers. No settlement is in sight.

The strike by the CIO United Steelworkers at 73 plants of American Can Co., and Continental Can Co., in the United States and Canada has almost throttled production.

Citrus canners in Florida, where operations are at their peak, have expressed the most concern. Some say their stocks of cans will run out in a matter of days.

And one canner predicted the state's citrus industry will face "one of the most serious crises in its history" if the strike is prolonged.

It was called at a meeting attended by fewer than 600 of the local's 5,600 members after several Bridges aides were named as former Communists by a witness before the committee Tuesday.

...policy." This policy, Dulles said, is to win friends and allies, not to acquire satellites. McCarthy did not address himself to President Eisenhower's declaration yesterday that the chief executives in "full accord" with Dulles' statement. He did, however, discuss the issue of communism in a very brief, on Nov. 24 McCarthy said: "A few days ago I read that President Eisenhower expressed the hope that by election time in 1954 the subject of communism would be a dead and forgotten issue. The new, harsh, unpleasant fact is that communism is an issue and will be an issue in 1954." "Yesterday Mr. Eisenhower said: 'I repeat my previously expressed conviction that fear of Communism is deeply undermining our government and will not be an issue in the 1954 election.' In my judgment, the efficiency and vitality of which the government is capable is being destroyed by the fear of Communism. It is not the fear of Communism, it is the fear of the Communists, which is the real danger. The Communists are a parasitic, degenerate, and un-American element, and they are the real danger to the future of our country. They will determine the future of the country, and they will determine the future of the world. They will determine the future of the world, and they will determine the future of the world."

Senator Johnson was quoted by the Memphis newspaper as saying "I'm sorry the law is cutting down on county clerks' revenue, but I think it would be false economy to raise out the law just because of that."

Choates was quoted as saying, "As to Mississippi drawing Arkansas couples, I say let them go over there and get married. I don't think it will be long before Mississippi will adopt a law similar to our, anyway."

Dr. Clifford Cole, head of the state's D control division, said the highest percentage of positive reactions in the blood tests given at the state laboratory were among the non-white races.

Cole said the 3.6 per cent figure included tests given at the state laboratory and state-approved laboratories during July, August and September. He said public health officials felt that a one percent "reactor" figure among a state's population is high and that one and one half per cent is considered "very high."

Four-month figures compiled by the state laboratory, which makes more than 40 per cent of all the tests in the state, showed these results:

In 1,352 non-white cases, 83 per cent of the reactions were negative; six per cent were weakly positive; and 11 per cent positive.

In 3,075 white cases, 99 per cent of the reactions were negative; one per cent weakly positive; and one per cent positive.

Cole said that the percentage of Arkansians infected with syphilis "astounds even us."

Cole said that in a survey he made he found that doctors throughout the state charged no more for a pre-marital examination than they do for an office call—an average of $2 to $5 a couple.

"A toy should satisfy a pet's extroverted needs. A parakeet, for example, is very vain. A mirror makes a nice toy for him because he is happy to perch before it and admire his own reflection for hours."

Hall found that dogs like toys that make a noise or have a taste, such as slippers with a built-in crackle when chewed, a rubber cat's head with a bell inside, a rubber bone impregnated with chocolate flavor," Hall said. er bureau said, was the result of a squall line that ripped into the state from Texas where tornadoes and stormy weather killed two and injured nine.

The deadly winds first dipped down at Dry Prong, 20 miles north of Alexandria, then ripped southward to hit the small towns of Leander and Hinston before swinging toward the northeast where it struck or hit near the towns of Paradise, Kingsville, Tullis, Olin and Jena.

ALEXANDRIA, La., (UP) — A giant tornado, ripping ahead of a stormy squall line, zig-zagged through parts of central Louisiana today, killing at least six persons and injuring 20, state police reported.

The New Orleans Weather Bureau also issued an alert — far ahead of the usual spring tornado season — stating that there is a possibility of a few small tornadoes in the Natchez-Jackson, Miss., area during the morning hours around Meridian and Laurel, Miss., were placed on the alert for mid-afternoon.

Four persons were known dead at Leander in Vernon parish in West central Louisiana, and two at Tullis some 100 miles to the northeast as the tornado leap-frogged through sparsely-populated hill country rural areas.

State police identified the dead at Leander as Mrs. Cazzie Wilson, 44, and Cleveland Smith, his wife and daughter. The dead at Tullis, a former oil town, were not identified.

Police said they believed a single tornado roared through the area, slashing out a crescent path a half mile wide and more than 100 miles long, out some witnesses said there were as many as six separate twisters.

The Weather Bureau said the tornadoes were the result of a severe squall line which was moving eastward. The storm front was accompanied by winds and thundershowers.

The tornado, accompanied by severe rainstorms and flash floods, tore through Sabine parish along the Louisiana-Texas border, state police said, then swung south into Vernon Parish, ripping into Leander, before roaring to the northeast and hitting Pineville near the town of Kingsville, Jena, Tullis and Olin. Severe winds also raked at dry prong and Hinston.

Witnesses said just before the winds struck there was "deadly calm."

Four members of a highway department crew were injured three miles north of Alexandria when their work trailer was demolished by the terrific winds.

Sixteen others were injured at Tullis when the twister ripped down shortly after daybreak.

Today's Local Delivered Price of the BUICK SPECIAL

2-door, 6-passenger Sedan Model 480 (illustrated)

*Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges. All subject to change without notice.

MAYBE you didn't know that you can get a bundle of big and able Buick Fireball 8 power at the "6-cylinder" price shown here.

But that's only the beginning of the bigger things you get in this eye-catching Buick SPECIAL for the low figure it carries—a figure that's just a few dollars more than that of the so-called "low-price three."

Take a quick roll call.

In this Buick you get more room than those few extra dollars can buy elsewhere.

You get more comfort—comfort that a lot more money can't buy anywhere else—the comfort of the Million Dollar Ride, with coil-spring cushioning on all four wheels, torque-tube steadiness, Safety-Ride rims, the firm solidity of a massive X-braced frame.

You get more satisfaction—more of that good and happy feeling that comes from traveling in a car of ample road-weight, of brawny structure, of impressive styling.

And, of course, you get more fun, more thrill—from bossing the walloping, silk-smooth power thrust of the highest-powered, highest-compression Fireball 8 engine ever placed in a Buick SPECIAL.

What it all sums up to is this straight fact: you get far more automobile in this Buick for just a few more dollars.

Better look into the matter if it's a real deal you want for your money. We're ready when you are.

The Reason For This History Making Sale
A PLAIN STATEMENT OF FACTS
Frankly speaking — we don't like this kind of a sale. To be drastic. But there's not much we can do about it for an inventory problem and it takes a sensational sale of this kind. Due to this sale some people are apt to think we are not business BUT WE ARE NOT. NOTHING could be further from the truth. We need business and we have too much, too much to sell. We have a lot of merchandise that is not healthy for any business. It is NOT THE OBJECT OF THIS SENSATIONAL SALE. DREDGING OUT everything with both store and warehouse crowded to overflowing. This sudden and drastic move, EVERYTHING GOES — without question — THE GREATEST SALE OF ITS KIND IN 100 YEARS. Terrific losses will be taken as we rip, cut and slash the purpose of this sale.

Concessions to Be Few in Big 4 Meet

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Use a magnifying glass to examine the fine print in the exchange of notes between the Big Four — The United States, Britain, France and Russia — on a foreign ministers meeting.

Then, after translating the diplomatic talk, you find this result: The West didn't get all it wanted; neither did Russia. Both sides yielded on something.

Summed up and simplified, this is what they said, demanded, won, and surrendered:

The West — In briefing Russia in a Big Four foreign ministers talk, the West laid down strict conditions: (1) firm arrangements for free elections in all Germany, opening the way for a free all-German, unified government and later, perhaps, a German peace treaty; and (2) Western-Russian agreement on an Austrian peace treaty.

Russia — Condemning the West for having decided beforehand what must be discussed, Russia insisted (1) that there must be a Big Five conference, which would include Red China, on general world problems and (2) only after that could there be a Big Four meeting, without China, on Germany.

In the end the West became less precise on what the Russians would have to discuss on Germany and Austria, although insisting they must be discussed first, and refused to let Red China all in with the Big Four on that problem.

And in the end Russia agreed to meet first with the West, although declaring that at that first meeting it would talk about a see and meeting to include China.

Next question: Will the meeting between Russia and the West be held at 44? Or will there be more note exchanging? The answer may not come for some days.

When Russia's latest note arrived Nov. 26, agreeing to let Red China wait for another conference, the State Department's first reaction, which has been its reaction to previous Russian notes, was: "Disappointing."

Almost at the same moment Britain's Foreign Minister Anthony Eden was talking confidently of a meeting now between the West and Russia. Whether this had any effect on Secretary of State Dulles is not known.

But yesterday Dulles began to sound like a man more or less reconciled to meeting with the Russians. He didn't, however, say so positively.

Any decision probably will have to wait until after the five-day Bermuda conference, starting Dec. 4, where President Eisenhower, Sir Winston Churchill, France's Premier Joseph Laniel, France's Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, Dulles and Eden will gather to discuss their problems and strategy.

The Western foreign ministers suggested a meeting with Russia and laid down the conditions in a note July 18. Moscow replied Aug. 4, agreeing to talk on Germany but wanting Red China in.

The West replied Sept. 2, refusing to open the door to Red China and restricting the talks to Ger-

Ft. Smith Plant Also Strikes

PORT SMITH (AP) — The American Can Company's Port Smith plant was shut down today by the nation-wide strike of CIO Steelworkers against the firm.

Supt. Richard S. Ball said about 24 employees were on strike at the Port Smith plant. Picket lines were established around the plant.

Border Group Fails to Make Arrest

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Revenue Commissioner Vance Seabrook said today that the Arkansas Border Patrol hasn't made a single arrest in its drive to stop illegal transportation of cigarettes and liquor into the state.

The patrol, a cooperative effort of State Police and Revenue Department agents, began its check on vehicles entering the state two months ago. The idea was to stop Arkansians from importing cigarettes and liquor from states where taxes on the items are lower.

Seabrook said the patrol's efforts have been confined to a handful of seizures of trucks at weight stations and private autos where violations are observed.

He pointed out that enforcement is hampered because officers lack authority to search a private car unless they witness a law violation. Seabrook said a constitutional amendment would be necessary to allow agents to search all private cars without warrants.

He added that he is opposed to his solution because it would constitute an invasion of privacy.

many and Austria, Russia replied to this Sept. 28, repelling its demands for a conference with Red China, wanting to talk about world problems, agreeing to talk on the German problem, but excluding the subject of all-German elections.

On Oct. 16 the West said there might be a chance to talk on wider problems if, first, the Big Four talks on Germany succeeded. At this point the West practically gave Moscow a blank check on Germany by saying Russia's Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov could talk on "any aspect" of the question.

Molotov's Nov. 3 reply was harsh: a rambling, 18-page note which scorned the West for turning up its nose at the idea of meeting first with Red China, was very vague on Germany, and tore into the United States for having over-accumulated bases and general defense preparations which Russia called "aggressive."

Russia stabbed its toe with that note. World reaction was bad. The West called a flat Soviet rejection. Russia had put itself in the position of not wanting to talk.

Nevertheless, on Nov. 13 Molotov told a news conference in Moscow Red China had to be included in a conference with the West on general world trouble, a conference which would have to precede Russian talks with the West on Germany.

Then Russia backed down in a note Nov. 26, agreeing to a meeting with Russia and the West first, but warning it wanted China in on a later conference.

Allies Fail to Win Over Any Prisoners

By JAMES MORRISSEY

PANMUNJOM, Korea, (AP) — Communists refused a shout-out to any in the first attempt by United Nations intervenors to win South Korean prisoners of the Reds over to Democracy.

Thirty men and women came, shouting Red slogans and singing Communist songs. They listened. Then all 30 turned their backs on their all-Communist homeland and marched back to Red custody — still chanting their songs and slogans.

The unanimous refusal of the South Koreans to return home gave the Communists a propaganda victory they were sure to exploit in broadcasts from Communists, Pyongyang and Peking radio.

They also were expected to use the example of the South Koreans in an attempt to influence the 22 American GIs and one Briton, who were to remain in Communist hands when other prisoners were exchanged to assist U.S. "come home" appeals.

The first explanation sessions were entirely orderly. Only one of two of the South Koreans interviewed spoke abjectly to the amply informed Korean officers who talked with them. One jumped to his feet and demanded that a tape recording be shut off. It carried the voices of a civilian woman prisoner, her husband and two children who asked repatriation last month.

Many of those interviewed today were women—one an attractive young girl in pig tails and a baggy, padded uniform who met attempts to be sympathetic and understanding with a brusque "I am not going to abuse you. I have respect for you. But get on with your lecture."

South Korean explanation teams, carefully schooled for their task did not plead, intimidate or attempt to argue with their former comrades in arms. They made an obvious effort to demonstrate to the prisoners that South Korea did not wish their allegiance if they had become firmly convinced of Communist doctrine.

Obviously all had. It remained anybody's guess whether the first 30 hard-bitten prisoners were typical of the other 208 South Koreans, and the American and British who remained to be interviewed.

Brig. Gen. Ahn Yoon, the South Korean repatriation commander, suggested that those interviewed today may have been "hand picked" by the Reds for their reliability. Their idea, he said, would be to score a propaganda victory at the outset which could be used to influence those who came before the U.N. teams later.

Maj. Edward Moore, of Repatriation office said, "This is about what we had expected."

The Twentieth Century Fund estimates that the United States and Canada produce about half the world's industrial output in 1947.

Commercial Highway Signs to Be Removed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The State Highway Department plans to remove from all commercial signs from the right-of-way of Arkansas highways.

Highway Director Herbert Edridge said today that political posters also will be removed.

Edridge explained that "The signs contribute to the poor reputation Arkansas has for highway safety" by blocking the view of motorists and distracting drivers' attention.

The Highway director added: "We must do something to help reduce our horrible accident death toll in this state."

The Cape Islands are halfway between Australia and Ceylon.

Man Goes to Trial for Slaying Wife

OMAHA, Neb., (AP) — Attorney was expected to complete selection of a jury today and open testimony in the first degree murder trial of a man charged with slaying his wife.

The state is seeking to prove that Edward Kuykendall, 34-year-old, Omaha, shot and fatally beat Mrs. Arlene Kuykendall, 30, and she died. Boyle said "she had two black sportsmen, leaving her stockings full of drugs, and had needles and a syringe to take them with."

The defense, during questioning, He said that a doctor would testify that Mrs. Kuykendall "had been caused either by consumed large quantities of rum, a blow or by a fall." A stove near county attorney's office had filed and whisky, and had access to the door of their expensive trail first degree charges "and has the large quantities of drugs shortly before she died." It said it would indicate that Mrs. Kuykendall's head may have struck it in a fall, an said the state had not altered injured by a fall.

The state had four preemptory challenges remaining as court opened and the defense three. The jury was expected to be completed by noon, followed by opening statements.

Defense Attorney Hugh Boyle, in questioning prospective jurors, Tuesday, stressed that the defense was prepared to show that Mrs. Kuykendall was "weaving like a man in the wind" shortly before she died.

Boyle said "she had two black sportsmen, leaving her stockings full of drugs, and had needles and a syringe to take them with."

He said that a doctor would testify that Mrs. Kuykendall "had been caused either by

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO
YOU'LL stay right here, Charlotte commanded herself. Wait till your hair dries, clean up the place, do a little laundry — a regular Saturday routine. It's better to be busy. Then you can go and buy the afternoon paper.

It's better to be busy. It was a refrain in her brain as she pushed the carpet sweeper fast, back and forth, rubbed her slaps and blouses in the inadequate washbowl, with quick, jerky gestures cleaned out her closet. See how the mind can compartmentalize. Little keys turn, little locks click, and certain thoughts stay shut away.

Only if the mind was so marvelous, what was also doing here in the middle of the room, stock-still, having forgotten what she started to do? And again, her hand, reaching into the drawer, paused in space. She couldn't think why she'd opened the drawer, and she stared and stared at her hand.

And now she began to panic about the possibilities that perched like grinning graminas on her shoulder. When they searched King's apartment, for instance, what might they find? She'd never written him so much as a note, never given him even a snapshot. Nor were there any to keep. Charlotte certainly not a man as self-contained as King. But suppose there were something? If not the record, then something. Or suppose someone, all unknown to Charlotte, after all did know or suspect... There was sure to be the inevitable detail that hadn't occurred to her.

Stop it! Stop this shadow-boxing. It's after noon now, the papers will be on the stands, you can go out, try your pulse in public. And see if you're followed.

As she stepped out of her entrance, a man came up out of the basement, her across-the-street neighbor, a fat, middle-aged man, a little like a million dollars in flow. You see, she couldn't stop without stopping and thinking. But she thought, and thinking, there's my little shadow that will go in and out with me, and what can be the use of him?

to see what he can see. Well, come along, she thought-waved him; how'd you like a drink waved over to Eighth Street? But you'll have to step lively; people always have trouble keeping up with me.

She became conscious of the street corner signs. "THE LAW. Clean Your Sidewalk, Curb Your Dog," one said. "THE LAW," said another. "Never Sweep Refuse Into Street."

Her mind fastened onto the rhythm of the words—Clean Your Sidewalk, Curb Your Dog. It made a good marching spur, clean your sidewalk, curb your dog, step, step, dog. By now they were nonsense syllables, and she repeated them over and over. That way she kept herself from running.

She neared a newsstand. The dealer stood stomping his cold feet, his collar turned high against the raw wind. All his papers proclaimed the death of King. PROMINENT STOREMAN MURKINS DEAD! MYSTERIOUSLY... PILOT THICKENS IN DELAWARE DEATH... QUIZ CUMMINGS' EMPLOYEES, Charlotte read. The type danced before her eyes, and King's face, looking up at her, it seemed to her there was fear in it.

Charlotte put down her nickel for a paper.

The little man handed it to her without comment and began blowing on his hands. Cold hands mattered more to him than the death of Prominent Storeman. His death in death daily in this city, where someone was murdered almost every twenty-four hours.

Charlotte went on toward Eighth Street. She wouldn't look at the paper yet. She wouldn't look back for the man in the suit overcoat looking back would only make her seem suspicious. She'd see, how about Tray? Faithful dog Tray. Do you admire my angles, Tray? I'll bet it isn't every day you get to follow such such ankles. Joke, bad joke. Well, come on, let's have a little lunch, she invited him. Even the Law must eat. But where shall we go?
